Mr. Wm. Albert Harbison,
Graybar Building,
Lexington Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Harbison:

Not since I assumed this position have I had a letter that brought me more sincere joy and gratification than yours of October 27th. Your adjectives concerning myself were more than welcome though, like the girl being courted, I felt that they were not wholly deserved.

I will make known my intention to the directors sometime prior to the meeting which I hope will be held in November. I have done what I could and I think I have done some good for THE PRESBYTERIAN and for the cause. I have gained approval from a great variety of sources and most of them from conservative men, many who are extremely so.

I am distressed beyond measure at your own perplexities which I know are very trying. I have had small experience in the same way and I want you to understand I sympathize with you very deeply.

I hope that the five or six thousand dollars needed to carry THE PRESBYTERIAN through the year will be found somewhere. I made some effort to raise money but had little success. My coldest and almost brutal return was from Dr. Macartney. However much the directors may think of him he has no high esteem for the directors. I wrote Dr. Robert Speer and he told me that Dr. Snowden and Dr. Clarke had told him the same sort of tale. "The Missionary Review of the World" is living on money that was left in previous years but he said he did not know how they could go two years more. It seems to be a universal complaint, especially among religious papers. We have not lost subscribers as have some of them though we have lost enough to give me the heartache.

My only hesitancy about resigning is concerning my own maintenance afterwards but I have been taken care of hitherto and I believe the Lord will not deny me now.

But this is to thank you for your very lovely letter. It is really the first word from the directors that has touched my heart and given me good cheer. I will struggle on as best I can until such time as a suitable successor can be found. Above all things, THE PRESBYTERIAN must be continued. I think if the proper people are informed it will be continued for there are many who love it dearly and there are those who believe it is doing a great work in the Church. Our debt to you can never be repaid.

Most cordially yours,

WCR*E

Dr. W. C. Robinson,
The Presbyterian,
1217 Market Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

As stated in a letter last night to Miss McKinney, I am in receipt of letters from you, Mr. Sanderson, and last from Miss McKinney, indicating the great pressure under which you are endeavoring to keep things going with The Presbyterian in Philadelphia, especially in the matter of salaries and also the corporation furnishing the paper, and also the matter of rents.

For the first time in my life I am under tremendous pressure, and in order to avoid sacrificing securities at this time, I am endeavoring to sell my homes, both north and south. It is under conditions such as this that I have been prevented from responding, as I would most earnestly like to do in connection with The Presbyterian. I realize my underwriting for the year has not been met by Two or Three Thousand Dollars. I have sent $500 to Miss McKinney out of a small balance of a fund in my possession, and I am studying the question as to how I can make good on my underwriting within a very short time if possible. It does mean sacrificing securities if it is to be accomplished. I will advise you as promptly as possible as soon as I can reach a decision.

In your letter of October 14th you expressed your disappointment in that you feel you do not have the confidence of the Board of Directors. This, together with the lack of response in the way of funds, would not warrant you in continuing beyond spring of next year. I certainly do feel that you have been very magnanimous, very loyal in your own feelings, and in the expression of your convictions, and that no one could have conducted himself in a more courteous, gentlemanly and Christian way in the position you occupy than you have done. It would be a trying situation for any one to be in under present conditions. It is certainly a joy to know that so many have responded to the impressions made upon them by the editing of the paper under your management. That was a fine letter from Mr. Warfield, which I am returning to you. Ther is no doubt in my mind but that some very constructive work has been accomplished under your leadership - something that was sorely needed - and I want you to be assured of my very highest appreciation of what you have done for the paper and for the cause itself throughout the Church.

If I have been frank in expressing my own convictions from time to time you will know it was done with sincere and earnest motives, and with no personal element in it; and perhaps it should have been accompanied more frequently by expressions of what I believe you have truly accomplished in your work as Editor of The Presbyterian. I do not think if your mind is made up in the matter of resignation that you should keep it a matter of knowledge simply between you and myself, but that the other members of the Board should be made acquainted with it.

Mr. Crowell could have met with us in Philadelphia on October 8th, but I was scheduled to be in Grove City on that day, and as a matter of fact had two attacks of Tonsilitis and did not get to Grove City. Mr. Crowell, himself under great pressure at this time owing to business conditions, finds he cannot attend any meeting until the 24th of November, when he will be enroute south to his winter home, but suggests that we hold the meeting in any event without waiting for him if we feel it is important to have it at once. Personally I feel that we had better wait until Mr. Crowell can be present, and I am writing Dr. McEwan and getting in touch with Mr. Monro in regard to this matter.

With highest personal regards, I am

Dear Stanleigh:

I have ordered a paper sent to you by the Philadelphia Company for guarantying mortgages which I hope you will receive and keep in safety until I return. I also left papers with you for which you gave receipt. I wish you would mail them to the Philadelphia Company and have them returned. They need endorsement of some sort and when they are returned just hold them as I left them with you. Of course, you charge up any mail costs in the matter.

Mrs. Robinson is coming to Philadelphia this afternoon. She stopped over at Elizabeth. It is very warm down here and just now it is raining.

With very warmest regards,

Mr. James H. Walker,
1936 Wallace Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Mr. Walker:

I was very glad to receive your note this morning. I sent out many letters somewhat at random and I find that a great many are in the same situation that you describe.

The trouble with THE PRESBYTERIAN is that some of our largest contributors have found themselves tied up. One who gave us many thousands every year told me recently that he had not had a dividend for two years and that his stocks had depreciated more than two-thirds. I do not know his business nor that in which he has invested.

You certainly were very kind to write to me and you have no obligation to aid us. I am carrying on in this work as best I can and in some ways have enjoyed it but the financial situation has made it a great question.

With very kind regards to Mrs. Walker and all your family, I am

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Mr. Harbison:

I enclose a letter just received which is a sample of many of the same kind. I send it to you as a director and I hope that you will be kind enough to return it to me as I wish to keep it for my comfort in days to come. Whatever the directors may think, I have almost daily some letter that speaks very well of my work. Except for that, I could not have carried on.

I sincerely hope and pray that THE PRESBYTERIAN will be sustained and come out into easier circumstances. With you I believe it would be a colossal calamity to have it checked in its usefulness. I know you personally will do all that is possible and, as I told you before, I think you have been very large-hearted and generous to the cause represented by THE PRESBYTERIAN.

Yours most sincerely,

Dr. W. C. Robinson, Editor,
The Presbyterian,
1217 Market St.,
Philadelphia, Pa.

October 12, 1931.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

Your letter of October 2nd certainly has deserved earlier reply, but I have been under the very greatest of business pressure, with two rushing trips to Pittsburgh. Have also had two attacks of tonsilitis with fever within recent weeks, and did not even get to the dedication of the new chapel at Grove City last week.

I know you are under great pressure, and I also realize that I have not completed my agreement, with Mr. Crowell, to underwrite a total of $7,500. this year, but the pressure is so great that I have been with great difficulty meeting my own business requirements, outside of pledges.

I think a meeting should be called at the very earliest possible moment. Mr. Crowell had suggested the 8th of October, but that was the day I was due to be at Grove City College. I am writing him today asking him now what would be the most suitable date, and will get in touch with Mr. Monro and Dr. McEwan on the matter, and in the meantime see if I cannot make a sale of something that will enable me to get over some money to The Presbyterian to relieve it of its distress. I certainly agree with you that it would be nothing but the gravest of pities if the paper should come to a termination, of all times, at this time.

I have been wanting to write to you in criticism of an editorial, -- your thought of putting no restrictions upon contributions to Christian work. That is all right if one is contributing simply toward current expenses, but a good many institutions cannot be run, -- especially in the Christian educational field, -- without very considerable endowment. When one gives in a larger way toward endowment, or toward permanent buildings, the interest from that is being paid into the current expense account, not only in the present, but in the decades to come. When one gives in the present they are able to judge as to the character of the work that is being done, but they do not have the same guarantee, with the change in personnel, and in Boards of Trustees, as to how the Institution is going to be run in the future, unless there is a very specific standard embodied in the Charter and By-laws of the Institution, or there is a condition attached to the donation itself, so that it will revert to some institution whose Evangelical character cannot be questioned in case the recipient of the contribution in the first place falls away from its original ideals.

This has been a life-long study with me, so I was forced to take particular exception to the lightness with which you looked upon the safeguarding of such permanent funds as expressed in your editorial.

There have been some splendid constructive things in your editorials that I have been noting from time to time, but I was somewhat disappointed in the rather uncertain tone in a short editorial this past week where you tell of two business men, -- one holding conservative, and the other liberal, views, -- differing widely at first, and then when coming into personal contact, finding they were essentially the same in their views. It is my experience that one may be perfectly sound himself as to his personal belief, but he may be so poorly grounded in his philosophical side, and the ability to make a logical deduction from any given premise that he often causes great harm, and by the permitting of certain premises, he opens the way for more logical minds to carry on to a more logical sequence, which may be the doing of untold harm among unthinking people.

With highest personal regards, and hoping that I may be able to accomplish something in a few days that will be of some financial help at this most trying time, and hoping that the meeting may be called for very shortly now, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Mr. Wm. Albert Harbison,
Graybar Building,
Lexington Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Harbison:

I cannot tell you how much it distresses me to intrude our difficulties upon you. You have been very loyal and very generous and I know that, like all others, you have your perplexities. I did write Mr. Monro but have had no reply. Miss McKinney wrote you and we have had no answer. The fact is that the paper bill amounts to $1500 and great pressure is brought to bear that we pay some of it, if not all. We have other expenses amounting to as much more. The situation appears to me to be very critical.

I understood I was to have nothing to do with the business management but inevitably the financial need crowds itself upon my attention and I confess gives me great concern. Never before in my long service as pastor have I felt as much anxiety about finance as this year with THE PRESBYTERIAN.

We are not alone in this situation. Every religious paper is having more or less trouble. Some of them have gone out of existence. The Episcopal papers have been subsidized by the General Convention of the Episcopal Church. Dr. James Clarke of "The Advance" told me at Buck Hill Falls that never in his long experience had he met with so much trouble as just now.

I do not believe the cause is in the personality of the editor. It seems to me that some means must be taken at once to discharge some of the debt and that a meeting of the Directors should be held very soon. It would be a crushing humiliation to me to have THE PRESBYTERIAN cease while I am editor but I think the situation must be faced and the way out be found.

I took it upon myself to send out some fifty letters to people chosen almost at random in the hope that the Lord would move some of them to send us some help. I have had but one reply and in that I was told that circumstances would not permit.

Mr. Sandberger and Miss McKinney are really in great distress. We are saving Miss Alexander's salary and in other ways doing all we can to keep down expenses but I think the paper bill must be paid very soon or we will be compelled to omit issuing a weekly number.

I hope the spirit of this is understood by you and that it will not add too much to the burdens which I know every man's business carries in these times.

With kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,

September 30, 1931.

Mrs. H. H. Hughes,
1627 W. Market St.,
Lima, Ohio.

Dear Mrs. Hughes:

There are many people in our Church who are much perplexed at present relative to the sending of missionary offers. Personally, I have not yet ceased sending them to the Board for our missionaries must be supported. I think the Foreign Board is doing a better work than the Board of National Missions in which I have very little interest. I think in the main, especially in Korea, our foreign missionary work is sound in every particular and I would not hesitate to send money there.

Yours very sincerely,

September 30, 1931.

Rev. Oliver Hemstreet,
Center Hill,
Florida.

Dear Dr. Hemstreet:

I have had your letters. I have been absent for ten days and I have not been able to lay my hands on the articles which you sent and which I recall receiving. We have an immense accumulation and occasionally we lose track of some. I will forward the articles to you just as soon as I can put my hands on them.

You are quite mistaken in your thought that I am either afraid of total abstinence or luke-warm about prohibition. Mr. McKinney who wrote the article which called out considerable criticism is likewise very loyal to what you and I believe to be the proper attitude regarding liquor.

You say that we have room to put in your article. Perhaps you know more about it than I do but I have not found the space yet. I will be very happy to print anything from you when I have the space.

Yours very sincerely,

September 30, 1931.

Dr. Edward B. Hodge,
2019 Spruce Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Dr. Hodge:

I was so glad to receive your letter and to know that you are in this country again. I have answered Miss Davis but I had to tell her that we have no available opportunity to use her talents. We are running our office on the smallest possible force.

The fact is, Dr. Hodge, we are having a very serious time financially. Bills are mounting up and Miss McKinney had no acknowledgment from Mr. Harbison of her last letter. The paper men are pressing hard for the $1600 which we owe them and we have other bills amounting to probably $1500. We have barely enough on hand to pay this week. I note the pressure on all sides but I do hope that the way can be found to continue THE PRESBYTERIAL. I do not feel personally responsible as Dr. Clarke of "The Advance" told me recently that they had lost an immense number of subscribers and were having a very serious time. "The Presbyterian Magazine" could not go at all if it were not subsidized by the General Assembly. I hope the directors will get together soon but they are all busy and burdened with many cares. Except for my confidence in our Heavenly Father, I might get distressed and discouraged.

I thank you very much for your letter. You have been a good friend and I appreciate all that you have done.

Most sincerely yours,

How would you suggest that I give my missionary pledge. I am anxious to give my pledge through my own church here The [illegible] Presbyterian Church of Lima, but I desire to have it used only where the fundamental and orthodox views of christianity is taught. I don't wish to have my Modernist or humanist have any money from me to carry on this work of false teaching.

If a pledge is made to a certain station, for instance, can I be sure it will be used only in that place? I am interested in Siam and its people.

I enjoy your paper weekly - and especially Rev Hutchinson's page.

I thank you in advance for a reply.

Dear Editor.

After all you seem to be greatly afraid of total abstinance, leaving so much of that out of my criticism; apparently trying to put wet and dry onthe same basis, as you seem to want to put the truen minister and the Fase Profit, the true christian and and the infidel on the same footing.

Ihave received some letters commending my criticism. One writer wants me to write a detailed exposition on Bible lines. Will you publish it if I write it?

It is about four weeks since I told you I incisted on your returning the three articles or publishing them soon. Neither has been done. Now please return them directly . There has been plenty of room for them. If you did not want them you should have returned them when you received them and saved several bad promises and both of us some writing and postage.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

On my return to the city yesterday from my vacation I found the enclosed letter which I am sending on to you, as Miss Davis evidently would like the type of work offered by The Presbyterian.

The men she mentions as her backers are all well known to me and high-class men. It struck me that with Miss Alexander gone there might be some place in the office into which she could work without undue expense to the company.

I hope you have had a good summer and are refreshed in body and mind. I expect to see you before long and hear all that has been going on in my absence.

The family telephoned me that they had again postponed coming down to Elizabeth. I think it very wise for we are having the hottest weather of the summer just now. Now I wonder if you would be willing to stay overnight at Elizabeth. Take the family down Thursday afternoon and on Friday morning go from Elizabeth to Buck Hill Falls where I am to be at a meeting, pick me up and we ought to get to Delhi shortly after noon. Dear Sir:

I note your comment on the Marble Collegiate Church of New York city - N. Y. - I would like to apply for this Church and I would be pleased to have you put me in touch with the proper one, to whom I could write concerning the work. I dont care much about the salary, but I would like an opportunity in New York, where the old time gospel could reach out and win souls to Christ - first I am a Bible preacher and hold the "faith once delivered". That is the big point. Then I'd be willing to come on six months trial, we can't get a line on a Minister in a days preaching, Commendations are easy to get as you will note on this page. I have twenty five mighty high class ones to send - over.

I would rather go on a work, that the folks, let them study the Ministers and let the Ministers study the Church folks—
I have like most of the Ministers taken the best out of sermons preached by able men and with a lot of Native ability and Holy Spirit power, preached them to the glory of God and salvation of men.
We are born again, God called and Spirit led, know the Lord far better than any one else in the world and know what people need, having a world of experience in this world of trial and sin— I am from Kentucky two years, I go to Charleston W. Va Sunday to look at a very good field, however the Lord may want me in New York and especially in this Church that is begging for one to tell the old story—

Please give me the name of the

Dear Dr. Hindman:

I received your letter of September 4th. I regret exceedingly that I have no acquaintance with any individual in authority in the Marble Collegiate Reformed Church, New York City. I am sure you would be a power if you could gain a place there. They have been very hard to please and I had a notion, though it is purely of my own mind, that there was rather a contest between conservative and liberal as to the type of man to be secured. Dr. Courtney was there and was highly spoken of but something checked further steps. I do not think he did it though of that I cannot be sure. If I were able I would certainly send you a name.

My dear Dr. Robinson,:-

Not long after it happend one of our Board Secretaries suggested that I send the 'stpry' of our experience to one of the church papers. It was he who suggested the contrast used in the title though not in the words used. Perhaps it is usable, if so you are welcome to use as much or little as you care to but if it is not suitable there will be no regrets and the waste basket is large I am sure.

We enjoy the Presbyterian. Have taken it for a number of years. I like your stand for the Faith. Am decidedly conservative and trust that God may send a mighty quickening throughout the Church which shall see many saved. Praying for this and for all who keep true to HIM, our Lord.

My dear Horace:

Really, I am overwhelmed with your generous remembrance of me. To do a service for the Hill family can but partly pay my debt which I owe to you all. If I met your need on the sad occasion, I am more than grateful. You have had a wonderful home life and when I think of your mother caring for those three children for so long and when I take note of the excellent way she did it, I admire her even more. Our Gospel is a blessed comfort when our loved ones are removed from us. Of course, we are glad she has gone from the physical ills that beset her. I hope Azlire will come along finely and that you will be freed from the cares that have been about you.

Extend my regards to the whole family circle.

To the Editor ,

THE PRESBYTERIAN,

1217 Market St.,

Philadelphia , Pa.

Dear Sir and Brother :

As Secretary of the Big Horn Mountain Conference I am sending a brief summary of our recent Conference for Young People held at Story near here .

We will appreciate having the article given space in the columns of THE PRESBYTERIAN .

I am also enclosing copy of the Bulletin which indicates our full program and docket .

Thanking you in advance for the space given ,

Very truly yours ,

Catskill,
New York.

Dear Dr. Hazard:

So glad to hear from you and receive the review. As to your articles, I hope you will not insist on my returning them. I have so many coming in that they are of necessity printed very slowly but yours come in frequently as excellent largely because they are brief and also because you write out of rich wisdom. Please do not hesitate to send more even though they may be slow in appearing. I have an enormous pile and cannot print all I wish.

Hoping you are in the best of health and with Kind remembrance of our meetings, I am

Yours sincerely,

Philadelphia,Pa.,

Dear Dr.Robinson:

Thank you for the Vanguard book. I enclose review of it as you direct. I was especially glad at the part of it which touches Catskill and Greene County history.

I enjoy your irenic yet plain spoken articles in The Presbyterian. By the way,any articles of mine that you have but do not have room for please return. One of them,"The Unsuccessful Candidate ",I especially want. With pleasant memories of yourself and your Delhi Church,and with kind regards,

Ever sincerely yours,

Dear Dr. Robinson:

It is with deep sorrow I note the death of Miss Alexander--so long with THE PRESBYTERIAN and so useful to it.

In her department of the paper she was using the brief missionary messages from my brother, who has been a missionary in China for over thirty years. He makes no charge for his contributions.

I enclose one, and will send others if you continue to use them. He lives among the Chinese and knows them intimately--is an earnest and consecrated minister of the pure Gospel.

Ever yours,

G. B. F. Hallock

Replying to your answer yes the one party who wants to see you & your kind (Fundamentalists) close up & allow the Modernists Reign. is none other than his Satanic majesty. Remember that your combating this evil is as much necessary as the existence of a General assembly. Gods' word alone can prevail if not wrongly twisted to suit the powers of darkness. Wife & I are with you She was Woodrow Wilsons aunt and Thos Wilsons descendant. Dont fail the cause. come what may.

Dear Mr. Hancock:

Thank you for your good letter. I hope THE PRESBYTERIAN will not be obliged to give up but we know that these are very hard times for many important interests.

Yours most sincerely,

PASTOR

Aug. 1. 1931, A.M. -

My dear Dr. Robinson: —

Just finished reading your Editorial on "Each Day's Thought." Let me give my testimony that these weekly messages are always refreshing breezes to me. Your fine balanced judgements concerning so many controversies together with your loyalty to Him whom I adore with you as Our dear Lord and Saviour, makes me wish that many more members of our Presbyterian Church might have these weekly messages together with the many other good thoughts offered in "The Presbyterian." —

Your thoughts expressed in "Each Day's Thought" caused deep searching of my heart with the prayer: Lord may I too look more earnestly into the face of Jesus to behold the Glory of God the first thing in the morning!

I pass on the Presbyterian to a "Dear old Mother in Israel", for she always gets the refreshing breeze from it.

I send this testimony to you for I know as Pastor in the service for almost 30 years what a little appreciation may mean in these "Trying Days". Only yesterday I received a letter of appreciation from a brother in the Ministry visiting with me for a day on his way to Denver and of kind his words of personal appreciation felt, but when he spoke. I visited Papa King (He was Elder for many years in the Dickens Church, Clerk of the Session when I received the call just 7 years ago this month. He is his 83 year now living in Denver) and he told me that he faithfully prays that our Ministry may continue to be blessed for many years to come. What a refreshing breeze, when the heat wave of dissatisfaction of some gets busy, to know others are blessed.

So my dear Dr. Robinson may my testimony unto you be
"a refreshing breeze on a hot, sultry day!"

Cordially yours
H. G. Blaschke
